DECLARATION OF SHASTI CONRAD

I, Shasti Conrad, do hereby declare:

1. I am the current State Party Chair of the Washington State Democratic Party. I have held that title since January 28, 2023.

2. The Washington State Democratic Central Committee (“WSDCC”) is the governing body of the Washington State Democratic Party, made up of two people of different gender identities from each Legislative District and County. Specifically, the WSDCC has 176 State Committee Members from 88 different Local Party Organizations, including 49 Legislative District and 39 County organizations. It holds three annual meetings, nominates and endorses local candidates, recruits and manages precinct committee officers, passes resolutions, and campaigns for local candidates.

3. The WSDCC works to elect Democrats, uphold Democratic values, and support Democrat voters and candidates across the state.

4. As part of its work to uphold Democratic values, the WSDCC fights for equal access to the franchise because we believe that the right to vote is the foundation of democracy. The WSDCC believes that our government is stronger if every voice is heard and that injustice in our election system means many communities, especially communities of color and the disability community, are not being fairly represented by government.

5. The WSDCC believes that conservative groups have resorted to making unsupported claims of voter and election fraud to mislead voters. The WSDCC is committed to fighting back against this rhetoric, and against any attempts to restrict the right to vote based on these groundless assertions.

1           6.       Groups like the Washington Election Integrity Coalition United (“WEiCU”)
3 suggest that fraud is perpetrated by or to benefit Democratic election officials. To fulfill its
4
5 mission of supporting Democratic voters and candidates, the WSDCC must be able to defend
6
7 its candidates’ victories and reputations against the WEiCU’s allegations.
